

Owl Class

9th October 2020

Dear Parents and Carers,

This week has been a truly excellent week for Owl Class. A highlight of the week for me was the children's top-class work on writing the next part of the story of 'How To Train Your Dragon'. Every single child approached their work with a positive attitude and produced some astonishingly well-written and funny stories that are worthy of publishing! In maths, the children have worked hard on addition and subtraction this week. As well as all this hard work, we have been listening to various rock and pop anthems from the 1970s and 80s and appraising them; whilst some have been enthusiastically received, others have been less popular (Sorry Status Quo!). Here are some pictures of the children sharing their writing and playing the glockenspiel.

Sophie, Jake and Matei showing their planning, success criteria and their final pieces of writing.

Gabi and Millie showing off the glocks!

Have a lovely weekend,

Mr Charlton and Mrs Searle.
