Dear Parents & Carers,

This week the children have written their own scripts for our Power of Reading book 'Into the Forest' by Anthony Browne. We have used musical instruments to help us create a scene from the story. In Maths, we have been revising addition and subtraction in preparation of applying this knowledge to measure next week.

In Art, we have started to compare pieces of art by the same artist. We have been looking at Vincent Van Gogh's sunflower piece. We have started to imitate his work and compare it to our last piece. In Science, we have started to grow our own sunflower or bean!

Due to lockdowns, we are aware that the children have missed out on phonics learning and as a result all children have retained different levels of knowledge. Across Key Stage 1, we have been able to allocate the children into groups to target their specific needs and meet them at their point of learning. These groups run Monday to Thursday for 20 minutes and every child is in a group. We will reassess after half term and if needed, children can be moved to a different group.

We hope you have a lovely weekend.
